POETRY.

LINES BY MRS. ALEXANDER KERR.

'I travelled to get quit of care. The day I arrived at * * * * was wet and dreary. I knew not what to do with myself. I could but think of her I strove to forget, and from whom so many months had parted me. A day at an Inn is a stand-still to our minds, as well as to our frames—no rest to either. I looked out of the window, uninterested by all that passed—until one form rivetted my gaze—she whom I loved passed by.'

I knew those eyes, whose lightning
Beamed on me as they passed;
The dull day owed their bright'ning
To the kindly ray they cast.

In the darkness of the night,
When clouded is Life's seeming,
We hail the comet's light
In sudden splendor beaming.

Lo! the torpor of my rest,
From the grief it long had proved,
Was brighten'd then:—I saw and blest
The radiant light I loved.

With their former smiling hue,
Past thoughts of her came back;
As the Heaven again seems blue,
By the meteor's shining track.

HOW TO SAVE ONE'S BACON.

Early one fine morning, as Terence O'Fleary was hard at work in his potatoe-garden, he was accosted by his gossip, Mick Casey, who he perceived had his Sunday clothes on.

"God's 'bud! Terry, man, what would you be afther doing there wid them praties, an' Phelim O'Loughlan's berrin' goin to take place? Come along, ma bochel! sure the praties will wait."

"Och! no, sis Terry! I must dig this ridge for the childer's breakfast, an' thin I'm goin' to confesshin to Father O'Higgins, who houlds a stashin beyont there at his own house."

"Bother take the stashin!" sis Mick, "sure that 'ud wait, too." But Terence was not to be persuaded.

Away went Mick to the berrin'; and Terence, having finished "wid the praties," as he said, went over to Father O'Higgins, where he was shewn into the kitchen, to wait his turn for confession. He had not been long standing there before the kitchen-fire, when his attention was attracted by a nice piece of bacon, which hung in the chimney-corner.—Terry looked at it again and again, and wished the childer "had it at home wid the praties."

'Murther alive!' says he, 'will I take it? Sure the priest can spare it, an' it wou'd be a rare thrate to Judy an' the gorsoons at home, to say nothin iv meself, who hasn't tasted the likes this many's the day.' Terry looked at it again, and then turned away, saying—'I won't take it—why wou'd I, an' it not mine, but the priest's? an' I'd have the sin iv it, sure! I won't take it,' repeated he, 'an' its nothin but the Ould Boy himself that's timptin' me! but sure it's no harm to feel it, any way,' said he, taking it into his hand, and looking earnestly at it. 'Och! it's a beauty; and why wouldn t I carry it home to Judy and the childer? an' sure it wont be a sin afther I confesses it!'

Well, into his great coat pocket he thrust it; and he had scarcely done so, when the maid came in and told him that it was his turn for confession.

'Murther alive! I'm kil't an' ruin'd, horse an' foot, now, joy, Terry; what'll I do in this quandary at all, at all? By gaunies! I must thry an' make the best of it, any how,' sis he to himself, and in he went.

He knelt to the priest, told his sins, and was about to receive absolution, when all at once he seemed to recollect himself, and cried out—

'Och! stop—stop, Father O'Higgins, dear! for goodness sake stop! I have one great big sin to tell yit—only, sir, I'm frightened to tell id, in the regard of never having done the like's afore, sur, niver!'

'Come,' said Father O'Higgins, 'you must tell it to me.'

'Why, then, your Riverince, I will tell id—but, sir, I'm ashamed like!'

'Oh, never mind—tell it,' said the priest.

'Why, then, your Riverince, I wint one day to a gintleman's house, upon a little bit of business, an' he bein' ingaged, I was shewed into the kitchin to wait. Well, sur, there I saw a beautiful bit iv bacon hangin' in the chimbly-corner. I looked at id, your Riverince,' my teeth begin to wather. I don't know how id was, sur, but I suppose the Divil timpted me, for I put it into my pocket; but, if you plaze, sur, I'll give it to you,' and he put his hand into his pocket.

"Give it to me!" said Father O'Higgins; "no, certainly not; give it back to the owner of it."

"Why then, your Riverince, sur, I offered id to him, and he wouldn't take id."

"Oh! he wouldn't, wouldn't he?" said the priest; "then take it home, and eat it yourself, with your family."

"Thank your Riverince kindly!" says Terence, "an' I'll do that same immediately, plaize God; but first an' foremost, I'll have the absolution, if you plaize, sur."

Terence received absolution, and went home, rejoicing that he had been able to save his soul and his bacon at the same time.

THE MORNING POST.

FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 1834.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSES OF CONGRESS.
No. XCVII.

Washington, March 24th, 1834.—I regret to say, it is impossible to give an analysis of Col. Benton's unrivalled speech on Webster's bill, in the narrow limits of a letter. No analysis can do it justice; and no encomium can equal its merits. I will not, and cannot doubt, you will give it to the public, through the Morning Post, entire. I consider it the most able, and unquestionably, the most important speech that has been delivered in Congress this session. His positions no man can refute; and I doubt whether any one will undertake to answer them. There is nothing, as you will perceive personal or partizan in his speech; the subject of the currency is taken up and discussed on the broadest principles of political economy and philosophy. Every man in America should read it; and he will find more information embodied in the narrow space of a few columns, than he has ever before gleaned in twenty volumes.

I think Col. Benton has here discovered, or rather demonstrated (for he disclaims the discovery) the true Copernican system of currency; and when the people understand it, they will reject with contempt and indignation the Ptolemaic system of the aristocracy; that system, which, if not now overturned, will overturn the government. But I will not enlarge on this subject; it is now fairly before the public; and the success of the administration, in its measures touching the Bank, I consider as placed beyond the possibility of a doubt. Victory is certain. It is doubtful even whether any project whatever for the renewal of the charter, or a new charter with any modifications, can be carried through the Senate; and as to the House, you might as well think to pass a bill on this subject through the centre of the earth, as to pass it through the lower House.

The early part of the morning was occupied by the Senate in a discussion about the York (Penn.) proceedings, which caused so much discussion last week, and which were finally rejected by the Senate, on the ground of being couched in disrespectful language.

Mr Webster seemed to be pretty sensitive on the subject; and he and Mr Clay, as well as Calhoun, and some others of the same kidney, were for having the Vice President take the responsibility of presenting the document to the Senate.

That you might better understand the subject, it may be necessary to state, that the document, consisting of an Address to the people, and Resolutions, was sent back by the direction of the Vice President; and the "Resolutions" only, were returned and presented to day. As the subject had once been before the Senate, the Vice President now submitted the Resolutions to the Senate to decide whether they would receive them.

Mr Preston, much to his credit, and more to his candor and honor, differed with Clay, Calhoun, Webster and Leigh on the subject, and argued that the Vice President ought not to be holden responsible for the sentiments contained in the Resolutions; but that he had very properly submitted them to the Senate to pass their judgment upon. He approved and commended the course of the chair; and shew himself above the mean and malignant sentiments of his scurrilous partizans. Mr Clay made a speech; and shew himself, in his personal allusions to the Vice President, both a —— and a ——, I cannot use the term that designates him; it is too degrading to speak the thing he is.

Can Mr Clay hope to be President of the United States, after deporting himself as he has to the Vice President, and after the course he has pursued against the President, during the whole Session? We read, "he that humbleth himself shall be exalted;" but where do we read, he that degradeth himself shall be honored? Mr Clay's language and deportment towards the Vice President during the Session, would disgrace any Kentucky raftsman on the Mississippi; and yet doubtless he thinks it a "safe precedent," that will insure him the spontaneous suffrages of a free people for the highest honor in their gift. I fear he will be disappointed; unless he finds a majority of the people of this country, blackguards, determined to elect one of their own class, to support, not their dignity, but their privileges!

Judge White had the floor to day on Mr Webster's Bill; and commenced a very able speech, which he will conclude to morrow. He resembles Mr Grundy and Mr Wright in the perfect fairness and candor with which he treats his antagonists. He was altogether against the renewal of the Charter for a moment; and against any National Bank, as unconstitutional. No man should refuse to read Judge White's speech; if it were only for the purpose of seeing how possible it was for a partizan, to be above party feeling.

REIS EFFENDI.

☞ The Young Men, who so ridiculously pronounce the letter published in the Washington Globe, false, have had the unfairness to MISQUOTE IT. They say that it is asserted in that letter, that "the Committee in obtaining signatures did not confine themselves to age, color, or residence." The letter does not say anything about the Committee getting signers. It says, "In getting signers, they," that is, those who procured the names, "did not confine themselves," &c. Here, it would seem, is a GROSS, PREMEDITATED, DESIGNED MISQUOTATION OF LANGUAGE, WHICH CHANGES THE MEANING OF THE LETTER—"whether" with the "intention" of deceiving the public, "we leave their fellow citizens to decide;" reminding the Young Men, however, of the remark of their great leader, Mr Biddle, who classed the coiners of false stories, with the coiners of false money.

More Distress.—As the "distress" of the people disappears, that of the Brokers, and their principals, increases. The purse-holders find they cannot "keep up the rate of usance," even with the powerful aid of their Senatorial allies. We recommend that they immediately get up a "Solemn Memorial," setting forth their "distress," and asking for a joint appropriation from the Bank and Congress to get up a new edition of Biddle's miseries.

☞ Several of the Anti-Bank Memorials having been destroyed or purloined by the rioters at the Faneuil Hall meeting, gentlemen who signed on that evening will have the goodness to call upon MR JONES, at the publishing office of the Post, and ascertain whether their names are on the lists returned.

The Legislature will probably adjourn this day—they have done some mischief and a little good.

Latest from Spain and Portugal.—Gibraltar papers to the 16th Feb. including advices from Madrid to the 12th, and Lisbon to the 3d of that month, have been received at New York.

The accounts of the progress of the Civil War in Spain are not of sufficient importance to require notice in detail. The Madrid papers give a variety of accounts, from different provinces, of the discomfiture which every where overtake the insurgents.

The intercourse between Granada and other parts of Spain, had been subjected to the Health Laws, in consequence of the appearance there of the Cholera. Deaths were about 20 a day.

The Queen has appointed D. Joseph de Imas Minister of France, and D. Joseph Arnalde, Director General of the Revenue. The Duke Frias, y de Uceda, Ambassador to the King of the French, and the Marquis de Miraflores to the Court of St James.

From Lisbon we learn that the forces of Don Miguel had been discomfitted in a succession of engagements. The Miguelites attempted a demonstration upon Lisbon, on the 30th of January, but were compelled to retire. On the same day a Miguelite division of 4500 strong, made the requisite dispositions for attacking Saldanha, at Pernes, but they were anticipated, and their outposts cut off before they were aware of it, by Pedro's cavalry. The main body thereupon moved off on their retreat to Santarem.

The consequence of this defeat was the evacuation of Sartarem by Miguel, who, by his own account, had already reached Alvieda Bridge. A letter from Lisbon of the 3d February, states that the forces of Miguel have been reduced to about 5,000 men. The Madrid Gazette of February 11th states that these reverses of his friend Miguel had given great uneasiness to Don Carlos, who yet remained at Villareal.

Late from Laguayra.—The fourth Constitutional Congress met at Caraccas on the 24th Jan. Decrees passed both Houses, inviting strangers of whatever nation to take up their abode in Venezuela, and guaranteeing the liberty of public worship. In consequence of this act of Liberality, the Rt Rev Wm. Hart Coleridge, of Barbadoes, a Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, has visited Caraccas, and consecrated the Protestant burial ground in that city. The ceremony was performed in the English language, on the 27th ult.—his excellency J. A. Paes, Gov. de la Madras, the Representatives of the two Houses of Congress, and nearly all the respectable part of the community being present. This is the first instance of a protestant bishop's treading the soil of Venezuela in his ecclesiastical capacity. A reform in the judicial system of the country is about to take place, and trial by jury to be established.

Our old friend Solomon Broadbrim, of the Worcester Spy, has the following sagacious remarks about the figure head for the Constitution:—

"We learn with pleasure from the Boston papers, that when the Wooden Idol was to be removed from the sculptor's on board the ship, that no Americans could be found who would do it, and that it was carried to its place of destination by a company of foreigners."

We are extremely pained to deprive friend Broadbrim of any pleasure, but truth compels us to say, that in giving credit to the above story, he has been humbugged. The gallant tars who fought the British so bravely on the waves, honor the Hero who conquered them so valiantly on land. Those who took the British side of the question during the last war, (and was not thou, friend Broadbrim, one of them?) are the persons who will never forgive Jackson for beating their friends at New Orleans. No American willing to bear the bust of the patriot!—Why, more than five thousand men with hard hands and honest hearts in this city, would step forward if needed to protect it from insult.

A certain young man, who had loudly threatened to prevent its removal, was informed by a Jackson man that the figure head was then about to be removed, and was reminded of his threat—he slunk away ashamed—and his silken courage failed him.

Bunker Hill Town Erect!—At the town election in Charlestown on the 24th instant, the Anti-Bank party succeeded in the choice of every officer. The Jackson party ran a candidate for Town Treasurer on a ticket headed "Anti-Bank," who was elected by a majority of forty votes! The gentleman elected Treasurer having declined accepting the office, another trial took place, when another Anti-Bank man was chosen. The following remarks from the Greenfield Gazette, although somewhat differently applied, originally, is a good comment upon the above:—

"The highlands of Charlestown yet bear the marks of a Despot's tread, and the blood of a SAINTED PATRIOT yet cries from the memorable Hill, that 'Americans scorn to be Slaves.'"

Anti-Bank Convention in Cincinnati.—At a convention of the Delegates appointed by meetings held in the different wards in Cincinnati, and townships in the county of Hamilton, convened at Carthage, on Thursday the 13th inst., resolutions were passed condemnatory of the Bank, approving of the removal of the deposites, &c. &c.

The Bank of Maryland has stopped payment—the Board of Directors express regret that the Bank is unable to proceed, and have resolved to transfer all its effects to a Trustee.

The Worcester Palladium is informed that the "glorification spectacles" have all been monopolized by the Bankites, to look at the monster with.

The Attorney General of the National Republican party is in danger of losing his bread and butter—the Centinel is greatly alarmed at the crisis, and the Committee of Public Safety are up in arms.

The Brokers aroused.—It is rumored that this worthy class of our citizens are about calling a meeting to petition Nicholas Biddle to put the screws on again—their "distress," they state, is insufferable—absolutely cruel money can be had almost for asking.

A Yankee in Tennessee—the Yankees can do any thing—is giving imitations of the showers of Stars, which was talked about so much a little while ago.

POLICE COURT.

[Thursday.]

Contempt of Court.—On Wednesday, a snub-nosed, but ghostly looking owl, by the name of Daniel Prinney, brushed up to the bar, with all the eagerness of an indignant Temperancite, to complain against two of his countrywomen, for being common drunkards. He swore to such an ocean of facts, that we seemed to see, in perspective, the poor feminine bacchanalians floating across the bay, to the house of correction. Yesterday morning they were brought into Court, but their personal appearance completely nullified the charge against them. They were the most respectable looking Irish women that ever honored the court with their presence. Before the examination commenced, Prinney rose and stated to the court, that "he had settled the business with the husband of one of the women, and he should therefor stop the proceedings." The magistrate informed him that he had nothing to do with settling it, and ordered him to be silent until called upon to testify. Upon this, the fellow haughtily left the court, when a capias was instantly issued, and he was again brought back, but absolutely refused to be sworn.

Court.—You are the complainant, and you must testify.

Prinney.—We have settled the matter, and it 's my pleasure that the prosecution shall be stopped.

Court.—You must testify or go to jail.

Prinney.—I wont be sworn, and you may do just what you like about it.

Court.—Commit him.

A mittimus was accordingly made out, and Daniel Prinney was forthwith carried to jail, there to enjoy a little cool reflection, and treat his resolution to a few porringers of skilly, till Saturday next, until which time the further examination of the case was postponed, the women, in the meantime, being permitted to retire upon their own recognizance. It is but just to the defendants to say, that a female witness, who admitted that she entertained hostile feelings to them, and had the best opportunity of knowing their habits, emphatically testified that they were perfectly free from the odious habit charged against them.

The magistrate expressed his determination to sift the affair to the bottom, and if it shall appear that the complaint was maliciously made, and that Prinney swore to facts when he made it, that are unfounded, he will probably be indicted for perjury.

James Carney pleaded guilty to the charge of being a common drunkard, but denied that he had "drank any ardent spirit." We believe him. The essential article imparts a generous bead to the countenance of its worshippers—but poor Carney was of a most ashey complexion. There was no more "speculation in his eyes," than in a red herring's. "May it plaze yer honor," said he, "I have never been drunk since the last time, when ye sent me to the House of Corraction. When I came out, I tuke a solemn vow never to taste anything stiffer nor beer. And yesterday, I tuke the vally of fower tumblers of it." It was proved that John Barleycorn had instigated him to "knock down his wife, who was in a dilikit sitiation." His wife, whose undisguised rotundity plainly confirmed the phrenological indications of her husband's amative and combatative cranium, was in court, in company with a chubby little chick, about 18 months old, and abstractedly traced figures in the sand with her toe, when this last aggravating feature in the case was sworn home. This is the first instance in which we have witnessed the resentment of an Irishwoman "to burn till morning light," against her husband, however violently she might have been abused. But Mrs Carney, like Tam O'Shanter's dame, appeared to for every once in a while, she would suggest something to the witnesses, to help them along, and by the joint efforts of four of them, the poor beer-swigger received a cold water sweat for three months.

Mr John Winchell, of Suffield, Ct. murdered his son, Mr Ariel Winchell, in that town, on Monday last, by shooting him with a pistol.—A quarrel had existed between them for several years, and the father had frequently threatened his son's life. The murderer fled to Hartford, where he was arrested on Tuesday. He does not deny the crime.

The inhabitants of the new city of Bangor—male and female—called upon the Mayor en masse, the day after his election. The Bangor Courier thinks it will be an "arduous task" to fulfil the duties of the office—we should think so too—Bangor is such a "screamer" of a city, as Col. Wildfire would say.

"Important, if true."—Uncle Lang of the New York Gazette, says that when he commenced life, he eat bread and cheese with his fingers—he now uses a knife and fork!

Mr Mossie's exhibitions are spoken of as highly interesting by those who have witnessed them. He is said to be a gentleman of talents and education.

We have received a number of a new paper from New York, called the Democratic Chronicle—it supports the National Administration.

Old Barnes, presents an interminable bill of whimsicalities, for his Benefit, at the Warren, this evening.

Hail Storm and Gale at Rochester.—A severe hail storm, accompanied by thunder and violent wind, occurred at Rochester on the 20th inst. At 4 o'clock, the barometer stood at the alarming low depression of 28 90, with a southeasterly wind.

The steamboat Carolina has been snagged in the Bayou Plaquemine, and sunk. She had 280 bales of cotton on board, part of which will be saved together with the furniture, the boat will be a total loss—no lives lost.

Thunder and Lighting.—Between nine and ten o'clock last night, there were several successive and brilliant flashes of lighting, followed by sharp, quick and deafening peals of thunder. The electric fluid was seen to pass down the lightning rod of the Mansion House, and at the same time several persons near the spot, though not injured, sensibly felt the shock produced.—Troy Press.

The opposition dispair of success in Virginia. The Washiegton correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says, on this subject, "the rumors to day are of a very discouraging character. The accounts from Virginia render it probable that, at the coming April election for members of the Assembly, a majority of Jackson anti-Bank men will be chosen."

CONGRESS.

Monday, March 24.—In the Senate, The Vice President communicated a letter from Lieutenant U. P. Levy, of the United States Navy, presenting to Congress a Colossal Statue of Thomas Jefferson, in bronze, (now in the Rotunda of the Capitol.) The letter was read and referred. The Vice President stated to the Senate, that he had received a communication from James Lewis and Adam King, the committee appointed by a meeting of the people of York, to communicate the proceedings of that meeting to the chair, to be laid before the Senate. That the committee in this communication express their regret that any inadvertence in the performance of the duties enjoined upon them by the meeting, had led to the transmission of a paper to the Senate which was not directed to be sent, and was not proper to be received. After a debate a motion that the paper be not received, was laid on the table. The Senate then resumed the consideration of the question of granting Mr Webster leave to bring in a bill to re-charter the Bank of the United States. Mr White took the floor, and spoke at length against the principle of the bill. At half past three o'clock, Mr White gave way, without concluding, to Mr Kane, on whose motion the Senate adjourned.

In the House, nothing was done, except the receiving, debating, and referring petitions, remonstrances, &c.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Thursday, March 27.—In the Senate, Resolve was reported and ordered to a second reading, for paying the expenses incurred during the visit of President Jackson. Mr Newton from the Committee on the bill for abolishing the office of Attorney General, reported that the same ought not to pass. Mr Austin, from the Committee to whom was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the Warren Bridge, reported that it is inexpedient to legislate thereon.

In the House, a report granting William Vans leave to withdraw his petition, was recommitted to the Committee to whom it was originally referred, with instructions to report a bill in conformity with the prayer of the petitioner. Report on the account of the Treasurer was accepted, in concurrence. Passed to be engrossed—bill for changing the names of sundry persons therein mentioned—to reduce the capital stock of the People's Bank. Bills passed in concurrence—to continue in force an act concerning Warren Bridge—to amend the Constitution of Board of Overseers of Harvard University.

Insult.—"I do not know how you will relish it," said a subscriber who owed us a couple of dollars, "but I shall venture to insult you by offering you a dollar now, which is all the cash I have about me." We assured him that no offence was given, and that we would be perfectly willing to receive such insults every day. We always pocket them.

One Thousand Dollars per Day!—The Charleston Mercury of the 11th instant, says that "the receipts of the rail road, on Saturday, from freight and passengers, were but a fraction under one thousand dollars."

COUNTY COMMITTEE.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Republican County Committee, at DEMOCRATIC HALL, on MONDAY EVENING next, at 7 o'clock. A punctual attendance is requested. JOHN WADE, Sec'y.

NOTICE.—Those gentlemen, who are procuring signatures to the Memorial against the re-charter of the United States Bank, are requested to return them to D. W. Jones, at the Counting Room of the Boston Morning Post, before 12 o'clock on Monday next.

PRINTERS.—An adjourned meeting of the Printers of Boston and vicinity, will be held at Concert Hall, TO MORROW EVENING, March 29, at 7 o'clock, to hear the report of the Committee appointed to prepare a Constitution, and to act thereon—and to attend to any other business that may come before the meeting, preparatory to joining the Trades' Union.

The object of the Trades' Union, as near as can be defined, will be there stated briefly.

Dr M. will personally superintend the various Baths, and attend to the prescriptions of the Medical Gentlemen in behalf of their patients.

Without boasting of the cures that have been performed, or pretending to any wonderful knowledge, he would merely say, he would be happy to render the Baths, and the system of Medicine itself, useful to the high Medical Talent of Boston, leaving it to an enlightened public to decide.

COMPOUND CHLORINE TOOTH WASH for Cleansing and Preserving the Teeth and Gums and Cleansing the Mouth.

THE CHLORINE TOOTH WASH effectually cleanses the Teeth, and will answer the purposes of the best dentrifice. It contains no acid or any ingredient which can in any case be injurious. It will also be found to keep the brush itself free from all impurities.

The Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash has the further advantage of Cleansing the mouth also—and of removing whatever is offensive in the breath. It hardens the gums and is a valuable remedy for canker or soreness of the mouth. It may also be used with the greatest advantage as a gargle for sore throat. In fine it preserves the teeth and mouth in all respects in a clean and healthy condition. It is agreeable to the taste. Gentlemen who are in the habit of using tobacco, will find that the tooth wash will speedily remove all the effects of it from the mouth.

That the public may rest assured of the very salutary effects of this composition, the following recommendations from gentlemen of the highest respectability are submitted

From J. W. Webster, M. D. Erving Professor of Chemistry in Harvard University.

Harvard University, Cambridge, March 14, 1831.

Messrs. Lowe & Reed. Gentlemen—I have examned the Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash received from you, and have no hesitation in stating my belief that it will answer the purpose for which you have compounded it. I have discovered in it no ingredient which can prove injurious to the teeth.

Yours, &c. J. W. WEBSTER.

From Sylvanus Plympton, M. D.

Messrs Lowe & Reed. Gentlemen—I have frequently administered your Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash in various affections of the mouth and throat—and relief has been immediate and permanent. In a neuralgic affection of the face and head, arising from a depraved state of the gums and defective teeth, which resisted many powerful, approved medicines, this Wash acted like a charm. I hesitate not to give it my entire approbation for the purposes for which it was made, and consider it one of the most safe, pleasant, and effectual articles of the kind ever offered to the public. I am yours, &c., S. PLYMPTON

Cambridge, Dec. 9, 1831.

From Mr. A. A Hayes, Operative Chemist and Superintendent of the Roxbury Chemical Works

Messrs Lowe & Reed. Gentlemen—Having examined the bottle of Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash you gave me, and become acquainted with its composition, it affords me pleasure to express my belief, that it well deserves the high reputation it has acquired.—It does not contain any substance in solution or suspension, which can either chemically or mechanically injure the teeth, and observation and experience confirm the opinion that its effects on the mouth, are salutary and very agreeable.

With respect, A. A. HAYES,

Roxbury Laboratory, Feb. 8th, 1832.

For sale by LOWE & REED, 24 and 26, Merchants Row—JOHN WHITE, Jr., No. 30, School street,

BLACKING.—Liquid, Paste, and Sponge—also a leather preservative, comprising all the kinds now in use, are manufactured and for sale at the Blacking Establishment, head of the Western Avenue.

KNAPP'S JAPAN LIQUID BLACKING, three sizes, in stone jugs. The proprietor has the pleasure to inform the public that from long experience in the business, he has been able to make great improvements in the article, so much so, it is believed, no other kind approaches near it in quality, with the exception of Day & Martin's, which by many is not considered so good. A small quantity, made expressly for retailing, now on hand, and offered to the public on reasonable terms—warraned to give the most entire satisfaction. The smallest orders gratefully received.

KNAPP'S CONDENSED OIL PASTE BLACKING is offered as above, by the single box, dozen, or cask This article is pronounced by the most competent and disinterested judges to be superior to any other kind now known in this market; and warranted to give satisfaction, or money refunded to the purchaser. It is prepared with oil, and its shining qualities are believed to be unequalled. It will be sold on liberal terms, and to wholesale dealers in the article, the discount will be satisfactory.

KNAPP'S JAPAN SPONGE BLACKING, for sale as above, by the barrel, gallon, or dozen. It is sufficient to say of this article, it sustains the highest reputation of any article of the kind manufactured in this part of the country, and it is the intention of the manufacturer to spare no pains or expense in the preparation of the same.

KNAPP'S LEATHER PRESERVATIVE, for sale as above, (indispensable to every man who regards his health or economy.) First, it renders the leather impervious to water, also makes it soft and pliable, and of course prevents it from cracking, which is the first symptoms of decay in leather. It is believed that one pair of boots with this article applied properly, will wear as long as two with nothing of the kind used on them; and for the preservation of leather, should be used in summer as well as winter. july 22

MARSHALL'S CONCENTRATED COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA, for the cure of Obstinate Eruptions of the Skin, Pimples or Pustules on the Face, Biles which arise from an impure habit of body, Scaly Eruptions, Pains in the bones, Chronic Rheumatism, Tetter, Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Syphilitic Symptons, and all disorders arising from an impure state of the blood, produced either by a long residence in a hot and unhealthy climate, the injudicious use of mercury, &c.

It has been a desideratum with Physicians and Patients, to obtain an active preparation of Sarsaparilla in a convenient and portable form. Since Dr Hancock's publication in the London Medico Botanical Transactions, and Mr Hodgson's recent Paper in the Journal of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy—denying the efficacy, and asserting the inertness of any Decoctions, Syrups, or Compound Fluid Extracts made by long and continued boiling; I have been induced to prepare a Concentrated Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, by a process peculiar to myself; and, aided by a powerful hydraulic press, have succeeded in obtaining a more efficient and active preparation than has ever heretofore been manufactured.

This very convenient and active Syrup is now with confidence offered to the Medical Profession and the public, as possessing in an eminent degree all the active properties of the Sarsaparilla in its most concentrated form.

One pint of the Syrup thus prepared contains the active principle of two pounds of Sarsaparilla. One fluid ounce is equal in strength to one quart of the decoction of the London Pharmacopœia or the Lisbon Diet Drink.

This article possesses an agreeable and pleasant flavor—and the most delicate and fastidious stomach will bear it conveniently.

POSITIVE, OR NO PAY.

MRS. HILL'S COUGH DROPS, OR VEGETABLE HEALTH RESTRATIVE.

Prepared entirely from Vegetables.

MORE than forty years have now elapsed, since the receipt was given me by my uncle, a celebrated Physician, at a time that I was troubled with a very bad Cough and Cold. After taking one dose, I found immediate relief, and a few doses cured me entirely; the effects were astonishing quick, and the numerous instances of the wonderful efficacy of these drops on different people, has induced me to put them up in Phials, with directions under the impression it would be a public benefit. And as that is my sole aim—and to convince the public that is all, and as a sure guarantee against quackery and deception, I authorise my agents to return the money to all those that do not get relief by their returning the bottle and directions. The relief and absolute cure, particularly of those numerous and complicated disorders arising from neglected colds, is amply attested by the acknowledged approbation of those who are now restored to pefect health, as well as many in the decline of life who frankly acknowledge having received great relief from the use of them in the following diseases, viz:—Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Hooping Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Influenza, Quinsea, Phthisic, Croup, and all disorders arising from colds. Price 37½ cents per bottle.
